PREFACE.

For a long time there has been felt the lack of some means of becoming familiar with the songs of our College which all of us know about, but do not really know; and it is in the hope of meeting this deficiency, that this collection has been made.

It has been the aim of the editors to include all the Wellesley songs, written from time to time, which are worthy of preservation. In addition to the older and better known songs, the collection includes many of the later and less familiar ones, as well as some that have not appeared before; also a few general favorites, not of Wellesley origin, without which no college song book seems complete.

The editors wish to express their thanks for the cordial assistance they have received from many sources, and especially from leaders of the glee club. They also gratefully acknowledge the courtesy of the editors of '92 Legenda in permitting them to use the songs which first appeared in their publication.

4 Like a statue she can pose,
 And interpret learned prose,
 In a way that makes my pulses wildly beat.
 She has studied poetry lyric,
 Epic also and satiric,
 Till her diction and her style are quite complete.

 She can cook as good a dinner
 As a hungry man would ever wish to spy;
 And I challenge the world over
 If two folks they can discover
 Quite so happy as my college girl and I.

The first system of the musical score consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef line with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 3/4 time signature. It contains a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, some beamed together. The middle staff is also a single treble clef line with the same key signature and time signature, containing a more complex melodic line with many sixteenth notes. Below the middle staff are two staves for piano accompaniment: a treble clef staff and a bass clef staff. The piano part features chords and single notes, with some dynamic markings like mf and f.

The musical score consists of three vocal staves and a piano accompaniment. The vocal parts are in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 2/4 time signature. The piano accompaniment is in grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The lyrics are: 'you must grind and grind, and grind and grind, and that's what she must do, Just do.' The score includes first and second endings for both the vocal and piano parts.

Swing, swing to - geth - er. With your body be - tween your knees.
Sing, sing for gladness, Let the woods and hills re - ply.

3 Others will soon replace us,
Others will cheer the blue:
But here's to those who love us,
And here's to our jolly crew.
||: May we ever be as happy
When we paddle our own canoe.

4 Twenty years hence this weather
Will bring us back to Float:
From distant lands we'll gather,
Be they ever so remote.

But we'll manage to pull the boat.

AT WELLESLEY.

Tune :— NEVIN'S "IN WINTER."

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 On mornings I get up on time
And wait the early bell's sweet chime;
At night I go to bed so soon
It seems almost like afternoon. | 2 I have to go to bed and see
My unlearned lessons waiting me;
And hear the grown up people all
Go stealing past me in the hall. |
| 2 And does it not seem hard to you
That when I have so much to do;
And I should like to study—then
I have to go to bed at ten? | |

- 2 The bo'swain's mate was very sedate,
 Yet fond of amusement too;
 He played hop-sotch with the starboard watch,
 While the captain he tickled the crew!
 And the gunner we had was apparently mad,
 For he sat on the after rai-ai-ail,
 And fired salutes with the captain's boots,
 In the teeth of the booming gale!
- 3 The captain sat on the commodore's hat,
 And dined, in a royal way,
 Off toasted pigs and pickles and figs,
 And gunnery bread each day;
 And the cook was Dutch, and behaved as such;
 For the diet he gave the crew-ew-ew
 Was a number of tons of hot cross-buns
 Served up with sugar and glue.
- 4 All nautical pride we laid aside,
 And we ran the vessel ashore
 On the Gulliby Isles, where the Poopoo smiles,
 And the rubbly Ubdugs roar,
 And we sat on the edge of a sandy ledge,
 And shot at the whistling bee-ee-ee,
 And the cinnamon bats wore waterproof hats
 As they dipped in the shiny sea.
- 5 On Rugbug bark, from moru till dark,
 We dined till we all had grown
 Uncommonly shrunk, when a Chinese junk
 Came up from the Torriby Zone,
 She was chubby and square, but we didn't much care,
 So we cheerily put to sea-ee-ee;
 And we left all the crew of the junk to chew
 On the bark of the Rugbug tree.

SHALL I TELL YOU OF MY LOVER?

FRANCIS E. MASON.

Shall I tell you of my lov - er, brave and true? All his

The first system of the musical score consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in G minor, 3/4 time, and begins with the lyrics "Shall I tell you of my lov - er, brave and true? All his". The piano accompaniment features a simple harmonic structure with chords in the right hand and a steady bass line in the left hand.

hidden charms discov - er to your view? Shall I tell you of his sweetness, Of his rich and full completeness? But I can't un - til I meet him: Now could you?

The second system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The lyrics are "hidden charms discov - er to your view? Shall I tell you of his sweetness, Of his". The piano accompaniment maintains the same harmonic style, with some more complex chordal textures in the right hand.

The third system concludes the piece. The lyrics are "rich and full completeness? But I can't un - til I meet him: Now could you?". The vocal line ends with a double bar line, and the piano accompaniment also concludes with a final chord and a double bar line.

"WELLESLEY LYRICS, with a frontispiece, which shows the main college, the hill covered with trees, and suggests the charms of the lake, is made up of poems written by students and graduates of the College, with an introduction by Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer. In her introduction Mrs. Palmer notes the fact that the college is not only a place for the acquisition of knowledge, but it is also a place where life is maturing, friendships forming, and youth, with its hopes, emotions, and experiences, has the field. It is out of this side of college life that these poems grew. It is an expression of the social and intellectual life of the College that the selection finds its chief value, and he must be hard to please who will not find in this volume evidences of the good fellowship, the fine feeling, the high sense of duty, and the generous aspiration which characterize the College whose name appears on the title-page of this volume." The Outlook.
